Brighthouse Income AnnuitySM

Add immediate income for more certainty.

A case study

All guarantees are subject to the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company. Each issuing insurance company is solely responsible for its own financial condition and contractual obligations.

Issued by Brighthouse Life Insurance Company, Charlotte, NC 28277, and in New York only by Brighthouse Life Insurance Company of NY, New York, NY 10017. Both are Brighthouse Financial companies.

Move forward with an option for partial income access

Having a steady stream of guaranteed¹ income can give you peace of mind in retirement. So does having access to a portion of your retirement savings if unexpected needs arise.

With a retirement tool like the Brighthouse Income Annuity,² you can plan for the expected (and the unexpected), with a variety of income payment options and the Early Access Option.³

A Brighthouse Income Annuity lets you turn a portion of your assets into stable income with payments that begin right away. Experience more certainty about your income without market risk, and choose the payment option that best fits your needs.

And you don't have to worry about "locking up" all your money; the Early Access Option lets you access some of your future payments if the need arises — in some cases as much as 50% of your remaining payments. See page 03 for further details.

Did you know?

of retirees and pre-retirees think, "When you buy an annuity, you are locking up that money for years."⁴

Meet Patricia.

See how she uses the Early Access Option to add flexibility to her financial future.

Certain Income. Flexible Access.

Patricia is 70 years old and recently purchased a Brighthouse Income Annuity for $100,000 using a portion of her retirement savings. She selected the Lifetime Income with Cash Refund income payment option. Patricia liked the added benefit of the Early Access option so that her money didn't feel inaccessible. Her annuity provides her annual income of $5,804 that will last as long as she lives. Should she pass away before receiving income payments equal to her purchase payment, a lump sum payment of the difference will be made to her beneficiaries.

Patricia uses her income of $5,804 a year to help cover some of her grocery and living expenses. However, she faces an unexpected emergency requiring access to a portion of her future income. Fortunately, because her Brighthouse Income Annuity includes the Early Access Option, she can access a portion of her future income during her Liquidity Period.

How the Liquidity Period for the Early Access Option works

The Liquidity Period is the time when withdrawals are allowed and is determined by the guaranteed income payout option that you choose. So, for example, if you choose Lifetime Income with a Guarantee Period of five years, your Liquidity Period will be five years. If you choose Lifetime Income with a Guarantee Period of 20 years, your Liquidity Period will be 20 years.

Income Payment Option	Liquidity Period
Lifetime Income or Lifetime Income for Two with Early Access Option	10 years
Lifetime Income or Lifetime Income for Two with Cash Refund
Lifetime Income or Lifetime Income for Two with a Guarantee Period selected, between 5 – 30 years	Guarantee Period Length
Income for a Guarantee Period only

Following the first contract anniversary, you can access up to 50% of your Liquidity Period Value, taken as a partial withdrawal. Your remaining payments during the Liquidity Period will be reduced by the percentage withdrawn for the remainder of the Liquidity Period.

Purchase payment:

$100,000

Lifetime Income with cash refund liquidity period:

10 Years

Hypothetical Example. For Illustrative Purposes Only.

The withdrawal amount is based on an assumed discount rate of 5.25%. Rates illustrated in these hypothetical case studies are for illustrative purposes only and were based on annuity purchase rates in effect on 9/13/16, assuming a $100,000 purchase payment. These rates are not to be construed as a guarantee or estimate of amounts to be paid in the future. Actual annuity rates are determined when a purchase payment is received and will be based on current rates. Actual rates will be higher or lower than those illustrated. All illustrations are based on non-qualified deposits and assume no premium tax applies. Income payment types cannot be changed or modified once payments have begun. These examples do not take into consideration the impact of taxes. Ask your financial professional for a current illustration of actual income payments. In MA and MT, unisex purchase rates are used to determine income payments.

The Liquidity Period Value illustrated above was determined as of the beginning of the year indicated and is the commuted value of future Liquidity Period income payments and assumes no prior early access withdrawals. The amount is determined using the discount rate shown, and if applicable, the company's mortality table as the date of the illustration.

Withdrawals made under the Early Access Option will be subject to a processing fee of 2%. For IRAs and tax-qualified retirement plans, it is unclear whether the restoration of the original payment stream (plus any increase due to the Increasing Income Option, if applicable) after the reduction in payments during the Liquidity Period is permitted under the required minimum distribution rules. Consult your tax advisor prior to the purchase of an income annuity providing the Early Access Option in an IRA and other tax-qualified markets.

For non-qualified annuities, the amount received from the exercise of the Early Access Option may be fully includable in your taxable income. Exercising the Early Access Option may adversely impact the portion of your subsequent income payments made during the Liquidity Period that can be treated as a non-taxable return of your after-tax investment.

With The Brighthouse Income Annuity, you can:

Turn a portion of your assets into stable income—for you, or you and another person.

Access some of your future payments if the need arises with the Early Access Option.³

Experience more certainty. There's no market risk. Market fluctuations will not cause a variation in your income payments.

Take advantage of favorable tax treatment when purchasing your annuity with after-tax assets.⁶

Select the income payment option that's right for you.

Begin receiving your income payments right away.

Choose the Increasing Income Option⁵ to help protect against inflation.

Use your income for anything you like from everyday living expenses to hobbies and vacations.

¹ Guarantees are subject to the financial strength and claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company.

² Referred to as Single Premium Immediate Annuity in the contract and on related forms.

⁵ The Increasing Income Option is available for contracts where each owner is at least 59½ at the time of contract issue and is available on both qualified and non-qualified contracts. This option must be elected at the time of purchase, and once chosen, it cannot be changed or cancelled and will continue until the end of the contract. By selecting the Increasing Income Option, the initial income payment will be lower than if the option had not been selected.

⁶ The taxation of the money you receive from your contract will differ depending on the type of contract (qualified or non-qualified) and whether you are taking withdrawals or receiving income payments. The taxable portion of the money you receive will be subject to ordinary income taxes and, if distributed before the owner reaches age 59½, may be subject to a 10% federal income tax penalty. If any of the lifetime income payment options are selected, then the 10% penalty generally does not apply. Depending on whether the annuity is non-qualified or qualified and how it is funded, the income for a Guarantee Period only option could result in the 10% penalty. On the non-qualified side, if the annuity is funded by way of a 1035 exchange from a deferred contract, the exception to the 10% penalty for immediate annuities would not apply. Partial withdrawals from non-qualified annuity contracts, including withdrawals under the Early Access Option, are treated as coming from the taxable portion first, and only after the taxable portion has been exhausted are withdrawals treated as a non-taxable return of the after-tax investment, subject to certain aggregation rules if you purchased multiple annuities from the same company or affiliate in the same calendar year.

Brighthouse Financial fixed and income annuities, like all annuities, are insurance products and are not insured by the FDIC, the NCUSIF or any other government agency, nor are they guaranteed by, or the obligation of, the financial institution that sells them. All Brighthouse Financial fixed and income annuities product guarantees are made solely by the issuing insurance company and are subject to the issuing insurance company's claims-paying ability and financial strength.

Like most annuity contracts, Brighthouse Financial fixed and income annuities have limitations, exclusions, termination provisions and terms for keeping them in force. All contract guarantees and annuity payout rates are backed by the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company. They are not backed by the broker/dealer from which this annuity is purchased, by the insurance agency from which this annuity is purchased or any affiliates of those entities and none makes any representations or guarantees regarding the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company. Similarly, the issuing insurance company does not back the financial strength of the broker/dealer or any of its affiliates. Please contact your financial professional for complete details.
